Jade's Dream Home: A Fusion of Elegance and Functionality

Jade, the visionary behind Jadore Decor, has transformed her Mountsandel home into a sanctuary of luxury and style. Partnering with Bassetts, she brought her design dreams to life. Let's explore the four beautifully crafted bathrooms that showcase her creativity and Bassetts' quality.

Downstairs Loo: Quirky Meets Practical

Jade infused this small space with character, using earthy tones and animal-themed wallpaper to connect with the nearby forest. A wall-hung Roca toilet and ocean blue vanity maximise space, while gold fixtures add elegance. The playful jungle wallpaper creates a fun yet practical vibe.

Main Bathroom: Spa-Like Luxury

Designed for relaxation, this bathroom features ambient lighting by Craig of North Coast Connections. Black brassware contrasts with wood accents, while the Aqualla Fuse LED mirror and Adamsz Capri bathtub add a modern spa feel. A recessed shelf offers the perfect spot for a wine glass.

Master Ensuite: Sleek Crittal Style

This ensuite blends style and function with a Crittal-style shower screen and matte black fixtures. The dark grey Salgar unit complements the monochrome palette, while the wetroom feel and ample storage ensure practicality in this most-used space.

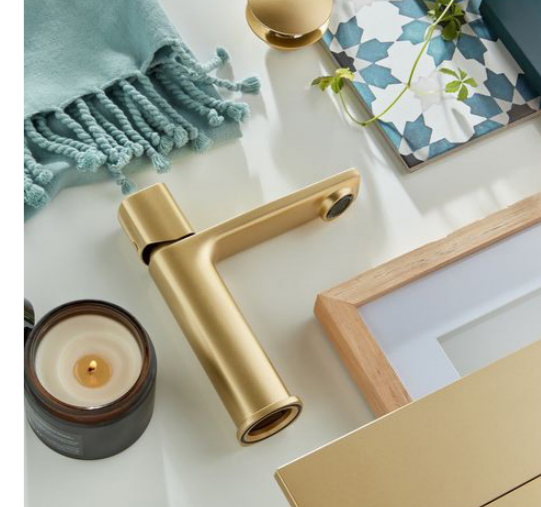

Guest Bathroom: Nature-Inspired Calm

With sloping ceilings, the guest bathroom uses a neutral palette and matte black brassware to tie in with the home's design. Wood accents bring a touch of nature, creating a serene retreat.

Through her partnership with Bassetts, Jade has turned her home into a showcase of thoughtful design, where each bathroom reflects her signature style and functional elegance.

Joanne's Bathroom Transformation with Bassetts

Joanne, an interior designer from Seaford, County Down, transformed a two-story home on a tight budget and timeframe. With help from Bassetts Downpatrick showroom, she created stunning bathrooms that blend style and function.

Bassetts: A Partner in Transformation

Bassett bathrooms proved to be an invaluable asset throughout the renovation. Their knowledgeable staff provided guidance on everything from product selection to design concepts, enabling Joanne to bring her dream bathrooms to life.

Main Bathroom: Elegant and Functional

The main bathroom is the focal point of the renovation. With recessed shelving and a wall-hung vanity, Bassetts helped Joanne maximise space. The Roca Ona vanity in dark elm and brushed brass taps add elegance, while teal and off-white tiles make the shower area a striking feature.

Downstairs Cloakroom: Playful and Practical

Joanne added a fun touch to the cloakroom with a matt green basin and Roca Gap back-to-wall toilet. Brushed brass fixtures and unique jigsaw puzzle-style floor tiles with coloured grout complete the playful yet functional space.

Ensuite: Calm and Neutral

The ensuite's neutral palette is complemented by pink walls and contrasting black fixtures. A Roca Ona vanity and spacious shower alcove, enclosed by a Flair Verve pivot door, give the space a modern, serene feel.

A Stylish Success

Joanne's collaboration with Bassetts resulted in bathrooms that are both beautiful and practical, showcasing how the right products and design can create personal spaces.

A Testament to Tailored Heating Solutions with Bassetts

In the heart of Derry, Victoria Gamble embarked on an inspiring self-build journey, bringing her dream family home to life. After approximately 18 months of hard work and dedication, Victoria and her family moved into their new abode, which boasts 2,500 square feet of comfortable living space.

One of the key decisions in creating her dream home was the choice of a heating system. Victoria initially seemed unfamiliar with the concept of an air-source heat pump, with her knowledge limited to its reputation as an economical heating solution. However, she was determined to explore this energy-efficient option further.

Victoria's vision for her home included underfloor heating on both levels, which aligned with her preference for a clean, uncluttered look without the intrusion of radiators. Yet, she knew that a robust heating system was essential for comfort and economy.

This is where Bassetts, with its wealth of expertise in heating systems, played a pivotal role in Victoria's self-build journey. The existence of a dedicated Heating Innovation Centre, where heating systems could be tested and experienced firsthand, provided Victoria with invaluable insights into her heating choices.

Victoria stresses the importance of a heating system designed bespoke to the build, which Bassetts specialises in. "It's not something you should simply pull off the shelf," she emphasises. "Bassetts took the time to understand our preferences in heating and how we envisioned our home being efficiently heated."

Victoria explains, "I was drawn to underfloor heating and not particularly fond of traditional radiators. However, I knew that investing in the right heating system was crucial for the long-term economy of our home. While some builders advocated for older systems, we stand as living proof that a heat pump works."

She admits to some initial scepticism but now couldn't be happier with her chosen system. Although the upfront cost may be higher, the savings in energy bills have proven its worth.

The heating system installed in Victoria's self-build project incorporates sustainable heating technologies. This comprehensive package includes a primary heat source, hot water storage, heat emitters, and smart heating controls, all meticulously selected to match the 2,500-square-foot family home and cater to the specific preferences and heating needs of the Gamble family.

The Gamble family opted for smart controls to manage their heating systems to add the finishing touch to their beautiful new build project. These intuitive controls allow for precise adjustment of room temperatures and heating schedules on individual zones, providing a seamless experience for a busy family, especially one with farming responsibilities.

Victoria Gamble's self-build journey showcases the power of informed decisions and modern heating solutions. Her home is a testament to the efficiency of heat pumps and underfloor heating, offering comfort and long-term savings.
